

THE NEW YORK STORE

(ESTABLISHED 1852)

LINEN DEPARTMENT

We Offer

One Hundred Pieces

58-INCH

Turkey Red Tabling,

—AT—

50 Cents a Yard.

These goods are New Patterns this season and have always been sold at 75 cents.

PETTIS, BASSETT & CO

JOS. A. MOORE,

64 N. Market St., Indianapolis, Ind.

Interest allowed on deposits, in sums of $5 and upward.
Money to Loan on Improved City and Farm Property in Indiana and Ohio.
City, County and Town Bonds, and Purchased Money Notes, bought and sold.
No loans made except such as are secured by first mortgage on real estate, with a large margin of security, or by collateral having a market value.
Foreign Exchange for sale on all parts of the world.

NEXT

MONDAY,

FEBRUARY 2,

OUR

Grand Annual

SALE

Ladies' Muslin

Underwear.

We promise the handsomest and best made lot of goods ever brought to the city.

We expect a quick sale at the extraordinary value that will be offered.

L. S. AYRES & CO.

Sole selling agents in this city for Simon Sterne's Fine Underwear.

The Sentinel.

FRIDAY, JANUARY 30.

SENTINEL TELEPHONE CALLS.

Business Office—164 Editorial Rooms—291

THE SENTINEL AT NEW ORLEANS.

To accommodate the throng from the Northwest who will desire to read their favorite home paper while attending the "World's Exposition," the Sentinel has been placed on sale in New Orleans at George F. Wharton & Bro's, No. 5 Carondelet street, between Canal and Common streets.

OLD PAPERS.

Good conditioned old papers for sale at this office at only 40 cents per hundred.

CITY IN BRIEF.

Harvey Case is reported some better.

The Museum lights went out during the entertainment last night.

A meeting of undertakers will be held at the Health Office this afternoon.

George Winslow, charged with the larceny of a number of books, has waived preliminary examination.

"Squire Smock has acquitted the defendant in the paternity suit of Annie Mack vs. William Manning, he proving an alibi.

James Roberts, charged with passing counterfeit money, was bound over by Commissioner Martindale yesterday afternoon in the sum of $2,000.

Tom Roberts yesterday found $7.16 in gold, silver and copper coins, ranging from copper cent pieces up to a $5 gold piece, in the alley near the Zoo Theater.

Yesterday Governor Gray appointed the Trustees for the State Normal School at Terre Haute. The following gentlemen will constitute the board: Murray Briggs, Sullivan, to serve until December 20, 1885; Hon. W. E. McLean, Terre Haute, also to serve until December 20; B. F. Spann, Anderson, and B. C. Hobbs, Bloomington, to serve until December 20, 1877. The new board will organize February 4.

The Coroner has found that Mrs. Margaret Beck, of North California street, died fifteen minutes after the birth of her child, and that there was no neglect on the part of those attending her.

The report has gone abroad that ex-Health Officer Griffin became engaged in an altercation with a butcher named Crawford, on Wednesday, and came out of the "scrimmage" with a very badly bruised face.

The Health Officer of Whitley County, in making his report to Secretary Elder, of the State Board of Health, says "there was one man whose last illness was of thirteen months' duration. That man was Butler, the Columbia City wife-murderer, who died upon the gallows."

AMUSEMENTS.

ENGLISH'S OPERA HOUSE.

Mr. William Redmond and Mrs. Thomas Barry opened at this theater last night to a large and highly-pleased audience, that filled almost every seat in the house, in "A Midnight Marriage." The drama takes the audience back to the sixteenth century, the time of romance and chivalry, the scene is laid in France, between the years 1523 and 1529. The author, Mr. Charles Osborne, has handled his theme in a manner to make it exceedingly interesting, and at the same time keep the incidents within the limits of reasonable probability. The play abounds in stirring situations, and the language is strongly dramatic. Mrs. Thomas Barry, as "Hortense De Guise," is a noblewoman, who is persecuted by her relatives, and finally triumphs through the strategy and bravery of her true knight. She is an artist of conspicuous ability, and that she has diligently learned her profession is thoroughly manifest. She had considerable work to do, and she did it with conscientious effort and excellent effect. Mr. William Redmond, as "Casimir, Comte de Longlet," who unites with "Hortense" in the "Midnight Marriage," to save her from a worse fate, is a sterling actor of the romantic school. His characterization was manly, robust, yet never strained, and always natural. In the most trying scenes—notably the last, where the gallows is seen ready to claim his head as a sacrifice to a woman's malice—his acting was powerful and his knowledge of his art plainly apparent. As the boastful but brave "Comte St. Ange," W. G. Owen was humorous and romantic together, and braggad, made love and fought like an old-time, true soldier of France. The rest of the company were all good, in fact it is one of the few companies on the road where every part in the play is played by an actor or actress. The scenery, mounting and dressing were fine, and the house to-morrow night should be crowded; for it is one of the very best attractions that has been in our city this season. They will appear again to-night, to-morrow matinee, and close with Saturday night's performance.

NOTES.
The bill at the Dime Museum next week will "astonish the natives." It is hard to understand how such a show can be given for so little money.

"Mug's Landing," with the charming soprano actress, Miss Francis Bishop, in the leading role, will be the attraction at English's the last part of next week.

The sale of seats for the engagement of the popular actress, Miss Kate Claxton, in "A Sea of Ice," at English's, the first three nights of next week, opens this morning at the theater box-office. This is one of the best attractions on the road, as everybody knows.

The box sheet will be displayed this morning at the Grand Opera House box office for the benefit of all who may desire to reserve seats for the Elks' benefit Friday afternoon February 6. The bill to be given is an excellent one, and a big house is assured.

Fair houses have ruled the past few evenings at the Zoo, and every one has seemed to be pleased. The show is considerably strengthened by the arrival of Joe and Annie Burgess and Smith and Lawrence, who were detained by being snowed out. Next week Mr. Harry Miller inaugurates the regular dramatic season by presenting the sensational drama in four acts, entitled "Counterfeit."

The Dime Museum continues to delight large audiences both daily and nightly, and the bill given is an exceedingly attractive one. Saturday afternoon the children's "bon-bon matinee" takes place, and a large attendance is assured. Next week Manager Sackett announces the biggest show of the season, including among the numerous other things, the world-renowned "Fashion Clock" and Miss Myrtle Kingsland, the noted lecturer.

Mr. Sam Harrison, the versatile and energetic "advance corps" of the popular and always welcome comedians, Harrison & Goulay, who are to appear at the Grand the last half of next week in their very, very funny comedy, "Skipped by the Light of the Moon," is here to "paint the town red" in the interest of his excellent attraction. It may not be amiss to remark that if everybody don't know when Harrison & Goulay come it will not be the fault of the "bustling" and popular "announcing agent."

This morning at 9 o'clock at the Grand Opera House box-office the advance sale of seats for the engagement of the Ford-Seguin Opera Company the first half of the week opens. The prices will be as follows: Parquet and dress circles, reserved seats, 50 cents; parquet, 75 cents; sofa chairs, $1; general admission, 15 and 25 cents. The report will be as follows: Monday evening "The Bohemian Girl," Tuesday evening "Nell Gwynne," the "Orange Girl," Wednesday matinee, "Fra Deavolo," and Wednesday evening, "Girola" (three black cloaks). The company is one of the best on the road.

Supreme Court Decisions.

The following cases were decided in the Supreme Court yesterday:

10,636. Calvin P. Barnett vs. The State of Indiana. Gibson C. C. Affirmed. Zolbars, C. J.

10,778. C. C. C. and I. Railway Company vs. Harriet Wynant. Madison C. C. Reversed. Howk, J.

11,574. William M. Alexander vs. The Board of Commissioners of Monroe County. Monroe C. C. Affirmed. Franklin, C. J.

11,830. Daniel M. Bynum vs. The Board of Commissioners of Greene County. Greene C. C. Affirmed. Elliott, J.

11,661. Mary J. Iker et al. vs. Henry J. Beavers. Fountain C. C. Rehearing granted.

11,590. Samuel W. Williams et al. vs. Francis A. Godwin. Sullivan C. C. Motion to reinstate overruled.

IRON HIGHWAYS.

Condition of the Steel Rail Market—The Logansport Division of the Vandalia—Other Items.

Vandalia passenger engine No. 158 has been turned out of the shops after receiving general repairs.

The J. M. and I. has placed on sale commutation tickets at reduced rates, good for one year from date of sale. The ticket can be used by the purchaser, a member of his family or an employee.

The side-tracks of the various Indianapolis roads are not nearly so crowded with cars loaded of coal as they were a few weeks ago. The I. B. and W. is finding a ready market in this city for Jackson coal.

Singular though it may seem, not a new railroad project has filed articles of incorporation in the Secretary of State's office for over a month. They will commence coming in again, however, with the beginning of spring.

A special from Philadelphia says: President Garrett, Vice President King and other officials of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company have been in Philadelphia the past three days on important business relating to the efforts of their road to gain an entrance into Philadelphia and form a New York connection. To-night Mr. Garrett had a conference with a number of gentlemen representing large financial and other interests, at which he made a proposition, the nature of which is not yet announced. Mr. Garrett's plan, it is understood, is to form a short line from the Reading Railroad. The chaotic and complicated state of the finances of that corporation may prevent the accomplishment of his designs. Several of the gentlemen who were in consultation with Mr. Garrett are financially interested in the Reading Railroad.

When the Vandalia people opened the Logansport division into South Bend they expected that it would do a heavy business, and to say that their expectations have been realized but half expresses it. Despite the effect of the recent intense cold spell and heavy snow storms this road is securing more business than at any time since the beginning of the winter, and its earnings will compare favorably with those of any other road of the same length in the country. Several new stations will be opened along the line of the road in a short time, and it is the intention of the company to erect elegant and commodious passenger and freight depots at South Bend during the coming spring. An official of the Vandalia languently remarks that the old "Punk" will be called the Vandalia main line, for comparatively speaking, it is doing as large a business as the latter already, and the entire division is in equally as good physical condition, which is saying a good deal.

There is no denying the fact that the steel rail market has reached bed rock. Rails can be purchased cheaper than ever before, but how long this market will remain in its present stagnant condition none can foretell. There is every indication, however, that prices will advance before many moons have come and gone, and railway managements would do well to purchase material before the advent of spring, if they desire to save a few dollars. An Indianapolis railroad man who is interested in a Pennsylvania steel rail mill says that the prospects for this business are much brighter than they were two months ago, and it is beginning to dawn on his mind that the money he invested in the enterprise some time since has not exactly gone up the spout, but that he will get it all back in time, and something more besides.

The Bee Line is one of the roads that have a supply of rails on hand, a large portion of which will be used during the spring between this city and Cleveland. The Washakie folks, it is understood, will put down several tons of new rails on the I. B. F. holding it for some time to come. Many of the other Indianapolis roads are showing good sense and discretion in purchasing their supplies while down prices rule.

REPAIRS OF SEVERE WEATHER.
A passenger engine on one of the tracks near the depot was puffing and turning the driver at a furious rate, but the wheels slipped without moving the great iron steed.

"That's the way it is continually this weather," said the engineer, letting out an extra supply of sand from the sand box.

"Twist, turn, slip, and all amounts to nothing." Another rapid revolution of the driver and the engine moved slowly off. A master mechanic said to a reporter that engines are subjected to more wear and tear this winter than at any other time during the year. The wheels slip on the track, then suddenly adhere, which chance either moves the train or breaks some part of the engine.

It frequently happens that a draw head pulls out, and although not extensive is very troublesome. The wires of the engine wheels snap in two and numerous other mishaps beset the trains. Modern improvements prevent the old time freezing up of engines. This used to be the great complaint, but it is seldom heard now. The steam from the boiler is utilized to this effect.—Exchange.

A Queer Story.

A strange story was told yesterday which is worth repeating, names being withheld for reasons. A few days ago a man was arrested for drunkenness by the police, who gave the name of a prominent business man of this city. After awhile he asked to have his partner telephoned to come down and bail him out. His story was so slight and he showed such a knowledge of the firm's business that no one questioned the truth of his claims, and the partner soon appeared in answer to the summons.

Stepping up to the turnkey's door he made the necessary queries, told the official to release his prisoner, and said he would become good for the amount of his fine. While he continued to talk to Tim Clark the prisoner was released, and immediately left the place. This caused some remark, but nothing was thought of it until the bondman thought to ask his partner over the wire about it. Calling up the residence he inquired how the police happened to make the arrest. The response was that the police had not made the arrest, and further queries brought answers to the effect that the supposed drunken partner had not been drinking, had been at home all day with his wife who was sick and had not been out of the house since leaving the office the day before. This was astounding, but both parties appeared before the Mayor next morning, when the turnkey and Police Superintendent admitted that the gentleman in question was not the prisoner of the night before. The head of the firm refused to stand good for the fine, and it is related that some warm words passed between the police authorities as to who was to blame.

The gentleman was asked if he had a brother who resembled him, to which he replied that he had but one brother, and that he had been in Australia. This puzzled the police, the attorneys, the court, the spectators—even the two partners. Evidently a sharper had practiced upon the credulity of the officers, having been well acquainted with the firm. The patrolmen were instructed to bring him in if he could be found in the city. Sure enough a few hours later he was re-arrested by the same policeman who had first taken him in, and taken to the Station House. Upon inquiry it was found that he was the Australian brother of the man he had impersonated. Explanations were made, fines were paid and the matter was hushed up.

plished that he had but one brother, and that he had been in Australia. This puzzled the police, the attorneys, the court, the spectators—even the two partners. Evidently a sharper had practiced upon the credulity of the officers, having been well acquainted with the firm. The patrolmen were instructed to bring him in if he could be found in the city. Sure enough a few hours later he was re-arrested by the same policeman who had first taken him in, and taken to the Station House. Upon inquiry it was found that he was the Australian brother of the man he had impersonated. Explanations were made, fines were paid and the matter was hushed up.

plished that he had but one brother, and that he had been in Australia. This puzzled the police, the attorneys, the court, the spectators—even the two partners. Evidently a sharper had practiced upon the credulity of the officers, having been well acquainted with the firm. The patrolmen were instructed to bring him in if he could be found in the city. Sure enough a few hours later he was re-arrested by the same policeman who had first taken him in, and taken to the Station House. Upon inquiry it was found that he was the Australian brother of the man he had impersonated. Explanations were made, fines were paid and the matter was hushed up.

plished that he had but one brother, and that he had been in Australia. This puzzled the police, the attorneys, the court, the spectators—even the two partners. Evidently a sharper had practiced upon the credulity of the officers, having been well acquainted with the firm. The patrolmen were instructed to bring him in if he could be found in the city. Sure enough a few hours later he was re-arrested by the same policeman who had first taken him in, and taken to the Station House. Upon inquiry it was found that he was the Australian brother of the man he had impersonated. Explanations were made, fines were paid and the matter was hushed up.

plished that he had but one brother, and that he had been in Australia. This puzzled the police, the attorneys, the court, the spectators—even the two partners. Evidently a sharper had practiced upon the credulity of the officers, having been well acquainted with the firm. The patrolmen were instructed to bring him in if he could be found in the city. Sure enough a few hours later he was re-arrested by the same policeman who had first taken him in, and taken to the Station House. Upon inquiry it was found that he was the Australian brother of the man he had impersonated. Explanations were made, fines were paid and the matter was hushed up.

plished that he had but one brother, and that he had been in Australia. This puzzled the police, the attorneys, the court, the spectators—even the two partners. Evidently a sharper had practiced upon the credulity of the officers, having been well acquainted with the firm. The patrolmen were instructed to bring him in if he could be found in the city. Sure enough a few hours later he was re-arrested by the same policeman who had first taken him in, and taken to the Station House. Upon inquiry it was found that he was the Australian brother of the man he had impersonated. Explanations were made, fines were paid and the matter was hushed up.

plished that he had but one brother, and that he had been in Australia. This puzzled the police, the attorneys, the court, the spectators—even the two partners. Evidently a sharper had practiced upon the credulity of the officers, having been well acquainted with the firm. The patrolmen were instructed to bring him in if he could be found in the city. Sure enough a few hours later he was re-arrested by the same policeman who had first taken him in, and taken to the Station House. Upon inquiry it was found that he was the Australian brother of the man he had impersonated. Explanations were made, fines were paid and the matter was hushed up.

plished that he had but one brother, and that he had been in Australia. This puzzled the police, the attorneys, the court, the spectators—even the two partners. Evidently a sharper had practiced upon the credulity of the officers, having been well acquainted with the firm. The patrolmen were instructed to bring him in if he could be found in the city. Sure enough a few hours later he was re-arrested by the same policeman who had first taken him in, and taken to the Station House. Upon inquiry it was found that he was the Australian brother of the man he had impersonated. Explanations were made, fines were paid and the matter was hushed up.

plished that he had but one brother, and that he had been in Australia. This puzzled the police, the attorneys, the court, the spectators—even the two partners. Evidently a sharper had practiced upon the credulity of the officers, having been well acquainted with the firm. The patrolmen were instructed to bring him in if he could be found in the city. Sure enough a few hours later he was re-arrested by the same policeman who had first taken him in, and taken to the Station House. Upon inquiry it was found that he was the Australian brother of the man he had impersonated. Explanations were made, fines were paid and the matter was hushed up.

plished that he had but one brother, and that he had been in Australia. This puzzled the police, the attorneys, the court, the spectators—even the two partners. Evidently a sharper had practiced upon the credulity of the officers, having been well acquainted with the firm. The patrolmen were instructed to bring him in if he could be found in the city. Sure enough a few hours later he was re-arrested by the same policeman who had first taken him in, and taken to the Station House. Upon inquiry it was found that he was the Australian brother of the man he had impersonated. Explanations were made, fines were paid and the matter was hushed up.

plished that he had but one brother, and that he had been in Australia. This puzzled the police, the attorneys, the court, the spectators—even the two partners. Evidently a sharper had practiced upon the credulity of the officers, having been well acquainted with the firm. The patrolmen were instructed to bring him in if he could be found in the city. Sure enough a few hours later he was re-arrested by the same policeman who had first taken him in, and taken to the Station House. Upon inquiry it was found that he was the Australian brother of the man he had impersonated. Explanations were made, fines were paid and the matter was hushed up.

plished that he had but one brother, and that he had been in Australia. This puzzled the police, the attorneys, the court, the spectators—even the two partners. Evidently a sharper had practiced upon the credulity of the officers, having been well acquainted with the firm. The patrolmen were instructed to bring him in if he could be found in the city. Sure enough a few hours later he was re-arrested by the same policeman who had first taken him in, and taken to the Station House. Upon inquiry it was found that he was the Australian brother of the man he had impersonated. Explanations were made, fines were paid and the matter was hushed up.

plished that he had but one brother, and that he had been in Australia. This puzzled the police, the attorneys, the court, the spectators—even the two partners. Evidently a sharper had practiced upon the credulity of the officers, having been well acquainted with the firm. The patrolmen were instructed to bring him in if he could be found in the city. Sure enough a few hours later he was re-arrested by the same policeman who had first taken him in, and taken to the Station House. Upon inquiry it was found that he was the Australian brother of the man he had impersonated. Explanations were made, fines were paid and the matter was hushed up.

plished that he had but one brother, and that he had been in Australia. This puzzled the police, the attorneys, the court, the spectators—even the two partners. Evidently a sharper had practiced upon the credulity of the officers, having been well acquainted with the firm. The patrolmen were instructed to bring him in if he could be found in the city. Sure enough a few hours later he was re-arrested by the same policeman who had first taken him in, and taken to the Station House. Upon inquiry it was found that he was the Australian brother of the man he had impersonated. Explanations were made, fines were paid and the matter was hushed up.

plished that he had but one brother, and that he had been in Australia. This puzzled the police, the attorneys, the court, the spectators—even the two partners. Evidently a sharper had practiced upon the credulity of the officers, having been well acquainted with the firm. The patrolmen were instructed to bring him in if he could be found in the city. Sure enough a few hours later he was re-arrested by the same policeman who had first taken him in, and taken to the Station House. Upon inquiry it was found that he was the Australian brother of the man he had impersonated. Explanations were made, fines were paid and the matter was hushed up.

plished that he had but one brother, and that he had been in Australia. This puzzled the police, the attorneys, the court, the spectators—even the two partners. Evidently a sharper had practiced upon the credulity of the officers, having been well acquainted with the firm. The patrolmen were instructed to bring him in if he could be found in the city. Sure enough a few hours later he was re-arrested by the same policeman who had first taken him in, and taken to the Station House. Upon inquiry it was found that he was the Australian brother of the man he had impersonated. Explanations were made, fines were paid and the matter was hushed up.

plished that he had but one brother, and that he had been in Australia. This puzzled the police, the attorneys, the court, the spectators—even the two partners. Evidently a sharper had practiced upon the credulity of the officers, having been well acquainted with the firm. The patrolmen were instructed to bring him in if he could be found in the city. Sure enough a few hours later he was re-arrested by the same policeman who had first taken him in, and taken to the Station House. Upon inquiry it was found that he was the Australian brother of the man he had impersonated. Explanations were made, fines were paid and the matter was hushed up.

plished that he had but one brother, and that he had been in Australia. This puzzled the police, the attorneys, the court, the spectators—even the two partners. Evidently a sharper had practiced upon the credulity of the officers, having been well acquainted with the firm. The patrolmen were instructed to bring him in if he could be found in the city. Sure enough a few hours later he was re-arrested by the same policeman who had first taken him in, and taken to the Station House. Upon inquiry it was found that he was the Australian brother of the man he had impersonated. Explanations were made, fines were paid and the matter was hushed up.

plished that he had but one brother, and that he had been in Australia. This puzzled the police, the attorneys, the court, the spectators—even the two partners. Evidently a sharper had practiced upon the credulity of the officers, having been well acquainted with the firm. The patrolmen were instructed to bring him in if he could be found in the city. Sure enough a few hours later he was re-arrested by the same policeman who had first taken him in, and taken to the Station House. Upon inquiry it was found that he was the Australian brother of the man he had impersonated. Explanations were made, fines were paid and the matter was hushed up.

plished that he had but one brother, and that he had been in Australia. This puzzled the police, the attorneys, the court, the spectators—even the two partners. Evidently a sharper had practiced upon the credulity of the officers, having been well acquainted with the firm. The patrolmen were instructed to bring him in if he could be found in the city. Sure enough a few hours later he was re-arrested by the same policeman who had first taken him in, and taken to the Station House. Upon inquiry it was found that he was the Australian brother of the man he had impersonated. Explanations were made, fines were paid and the matter was hushed up.

plished that he had but one brother, and that he had been in Australia. This puzzled the police, the attorneys, the court, the spectators—even the two partners. Evidently a sharper had practiced upon the credulity of the officers, having been well acquainted with the firm. The patrolmen were instructed to bring him in if he could be found in the city. Sure enough a few hours later he was re-arrested by the same policeman who had first taken him in, and taken to the Station House. Upon inquiry it was found that he was the Australian brother of the man he had impersonated. Explanations were made, fines were paid and the matter was hushed up.

plished that he had but one brother, and that he had been in Australia. This puzzled the police, the attorneys, the court, the spectators—even the two partners. Evidently a sharper had practiced upon the credulity of the officers, having been well acquainted with the firm. The patrolmen were instructed to bring him in if he could be found in the city. Sure enough a few hours later he was re-arrested by the same policeman who had first taken him in, and taken to the Station House. Upon inquiry it was found that he was the Australian brother of the man he had impersonated. Explanations were made, fines were paid and the matter was hushed up.

plished that he had but one brother, and that he had been in Australia. This puzzled the police, the attorneys, the court, the spectators—even the two partners. Evidently a sharper had practiced upon the credulity of the officers, having been well acquainted with the firm. The patrolmen were instructed to bring him in if he could be found in the city. Sure enough a few hours later he was re-arrested by the same policeman who had first taken him in, and taken to the Station House. Upon inquiry it was found that he was the Australian brother of the man he had impersonated. Explanations were made, fines were paid and the matter was hushed up.

plished that he had but one brother, and that he had been in Australia. This puzzled the police, the attorneys, the court, the spectators—even the two partners. Evidently a sharper had practiced upon the credulity of the officers, having been well acquainted with the firm. The patrolmen were instructed to bring him in if he could be found in the city. Sure enough a few hours later he was re-arrested by the same policeman who had first taken him in, and taken to the Station House. Upon inquiry it was found that he was the Australian brother of the man he had impersonated. Explanations were made, fines were paid and the matter was hushed up.

plished that he had but one brother, and that he had been in Australia. This puzzled the police, the attorneys, the court, the spectators—even the two partners. Evidently a sharper had practiced upon the credulity of the officers, having been well acquainted with the firm. The patrolmen were instructed to bring him in if he could be found in the city. Sure enough a few hours later he was re-arrested by the same policeman who had first taken him in, and taken to the Station House. Upon inquiry it was found that he was the Australian brother of the man he had impersonated. Explanations were made, fines were paid and the matter was hushed up.

plished that he had but one brother, and that he had been in Australia. This puzzled the police, the attorneys, the court, the spectators—even the two partners. Evidently a sharper had practiced upon the credulity of the officers, having been well acquainted with the firm. The patrolmen were instructed to bring him in if he could be found in the city. Sure enough a few hours later he was re-arrested by the same policeman who had first taken him in, and taken to the Station House. Upon inquiry it was found that he was the Australian brother of the man he had impersonated. Explanations were made, fines were paid and the matter was hushed up.

plished that he had but one brother, and that he had been in Australia. This puzzled the police, the attorneys, the court, the spectators—even the two partners. Evidently a sharper had practiced upon the credulity of the officers, having been well acquainted with the firm. The patrolmen were instructed to bring him in if he could be found in the city. Sure enough a few hours later he was re-arrested by the same policeman who had first taken him in, and taken to the Station House. Upon inquiry it was found that he was the Australian brother of the man he had impersonated. Explanations were made, fines were paid and the matter was hushed up.

plished that he had but one brother, and that he had been in Australia. This puzzled the police, the attorneys, the court, the spectators—even the two partners. Evidently a sharper had practiced upon the credulity of the officers, having been well acquainted with the firm. The patrolmen were instructed to bring him in if he could be found in the city. Sure enough a few hours later he was re-arrested by the same policeman who had first taken him in, and taken to the Station House. Upon inquiry it was found that he was the Australian brother of the man he had impersonated. Explanations were made, fines were paid and the matter was hushed up.

plished that he had but one brother, and that he had been in Australia. This puzzled the police, the attorneys, the court, the spectators—even the two partners. Evidently a sharper had practiced upon the credulity of the officers, having been well acquainted with the firm. The patrolmen were instructed to bring him in if he could be found in the city. Sure enough a few hours later he was re-arrested by the same policeman who had first taken him in, and taken to the Station House. Upon inquiry it was found that he was the Australian brother of the man he had impersonated. Explanations were made, fines were paid and the matter was hushed up.

plished that he had but one brother, and that he had been in Australia. This puzzled the police, the attorneys, the court, the spectators—even the two partners. Evidently a sharper had practiced upon the credulity of the officers, having been well acquainted with the firm. The patrolmen were instructed to bring him in if he could be found in the city. Sure enough a few hours later he was re-arrested by the same policeman who had first taken him in, and taken to the Station House. Upon inquiry it was found that he was the Australian brother of the man he had impersonated. Explanations were made, fines were paid and the matter was hushed up.

plished that he had but one brother, and that he had been in Australia. This puzzled the police, the attorneys, the court, the spectators—even the two partners. Evidently a sharper had practiced upon the credulity of the officers, having been well acquainted with the firm. The patrolmen were instructed to bring him in if he could be found in the city. Sure enough a few hours later he was re-arrested by the same policeman who had first taken him in, and taken to the Station House. Upon inquiry it was found that he was the Australian brother of the man he had impersonated. Explanations were made, fines were paid and the matter was hushed up.

plished that he had but one brother, and that he had been in Australia. This puzzled the police, the attorneys, the court, the spectators—even the two partners. Evidently a sharper had practiced upon the credulity of the officers, having been well acquainted with the firm. The patrolmen were instructed to bring him in if he could be found in the city. Sure enough a few hours later he was re-arrested by the same policeman who had first taken him in, and taken to the Station House. Upon inquiry it was found that he was the Australian brother of the man he had impersonated. Explanations were made, fines were paid and the matter was hushed up.

plished that he had but one brother, and that he had been in Australia. This puzzled the police, the attorneys, the court, the spectators—even the two partners. Evidently a sharper had practiced upon the credulity of the officers, having been well acquainted with the firm. The patrolmen were instructed to bring him in if he could be found in the city. Sure enough a few hours later he was re-arrested by the same policeman who had first taken him in, and taken to the Station House. Upon inquiry it was found that he was the Australian brother of the man he had